

PRESS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE, Dated Thursday 1st February 2007

MAGRATHEA ADD IRISH NUMBERS TO THEIR OFFERING!

Magrathea Telecommunications Ltd, the UK's premier supplier of carrier services and managed communication solutions, today announce the addition of Irish numbers to their already extensive range of numbering.

This will enable new and existing clients to extend the reach of their products beyond the UK, giving the opportunity to expand their customer base to the residents of Ireland.

"Although we already had comprehensive numbering options available, this expansion to our International numbering will help us to satisfy our clients demands and help us to maintain our position as their premier supplier" says Linus Surguy, Magrathea's Technical Director.

In keeping with Magrathea's policy of ensuring ease of use for all of their customers, the service to provision numbers has been set up with simplicity in mind. Magrathea provide clients with an interface enabling them to allocate and control numbers with a just a few keystrokes. All changes are processed real time so there are no delays for users. Linus adds, "It is vital to our clients that all of our systems are simple to use and can easily be incorporated into their own management systems. With many clients now offering instant sign up through their websites this is essential."

This service has become available following Magrathea's expansion of their network to Ireland with a full Eircom interconnect.

Magrathea continue their success in building relationships with Network Operators across the UK and Europe to the benefit of its clients, with numbering and number portability being a high priority.

Notes to the Editor

The Magrathea group of companies was established in 1995 to provide a wide range of world class telecommunication solutions to match the needs of the telecommunication industry. The company has its own switching facilities based within the London Docklands area, including Telehouse and Global Switch, giving it access to virtually unlimited capacity and bandwidth and access to the best carriers in the world. Its technology is entirely developed in house but draws upon industry standards and utilises industrial strength components for ultimate carrier grade reliability. It offers complete VoIP solutions based on SIP, IAX and H.323. Packages vary from call termination services providing competitive national and international rates, numbering services (such as providing UK numbers to SIP clients) or complete packages including hardware and call termination all in one.
